We request that you insure any dog which you may rehome. Veterinary treatment is expensive and most insurance companies will cover pets for third party liability insurance as well. Should you decide not to take out insurance for any treatment or claim, you agree to pay for any treatment yourselves. Rottweilers in Need will not be held responsible for any costs once the dog is transferred into your care. Details of insurance companies are widely available. Should you give a dog a new home, please remember that time and patience is of the utmost importance to ensure he or she settles in with the minimum of stress. Socialisation and training may also be needed and needs to be considered.

A donation of £250 for adult dogs and £350 for dogs under 12 months of age at transfer. All donations help with our cost for kennelling, vet fees care and food. All our dogs are micro-chipped. All our staff are volunteers and we do not make any profits.
